THE CANNY SCOTSMAN

A Scotsman woke up one morning to find that the night his wife had passed away. He leaped out of the bed and ran horror-stricken into the hall.

"Mary," he called downstairs to the general servant in the kitchen, "come to the foot of the stairs quick."

"Yes, yes," she cried, "what is it?"

"Boil only one egg for breakfast this morning," he said.

TO CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

BOYS' CONFERENCE A HUGE SUCCESS

At a joint meeting of representatives of the town council, the L. O. D. E., the G. W. V. A., the Red Cross and citizens, held at the town hall on Monday night, it was decided to celebrate Armistice Day by a two minutes of silence on Saturday, November the 11th and a parade and grave decoration on Sunday, November 12th.

The programme for the 12th will be: assembling at the school grounds and forming in procession at 3 p.m. as follows:

Band.
Firing Party.
Home Roll Flag.
Wife Widows and ladies with wreaths.

School children and teachers.

War Veterans.

Mayor and Council.

L. O. D. E. and Red Cross.

Band.

The parade will be in charge of Capt. J. A. McDonald and W. Fisher and Private J. Rudd, who will act under instructions from the Mayor and Council.

The committee in charge of religious ceremonies will be Rev. Father Cosman, Rev. W. T. Young and Mr. D. M. J. Conway.

The procession being formed, will proceed from the school grounds by way of State Street and Sixth Avenue to the Catholic cemetery, where graves will be decorated and a short service held; then proceeding to the Protestant cemetery, where a similar service will be held.

It is hoped to have two bands in attendance to render march selections and accompaniment for hymns at the cemeteries.

Monday next being Thanksgiving Day, business places will be closed.

HOCKEY CLUB MEETING

ARE INDEED GRATEFUL

The general meeting of the Blairmore Hockey Club held at the Miners hall on Monday night last was very poorly attended by the public. The minutes of two previous meetings were read, also the financial statement, which showed a credit balance of $246 at the close of last season. Altogether the statement was very satisfactory. A report of the Crow Indians' games was also handed in and read.

In the matter of appointing an executive to the Crow League, L. L. Morgan was the unanimous choice. The general club has to name two referees for League use and the names of W. W. Scott and M. G. Rhynas were submitted.

A short discussion took place regarding the contract between the Blairmore Limited and the Hockey Club. This had to do with the division of the receipts of games. The matter was tabled until a satisfactory agreement could be drawn up.

The members who were elected at the close of last season and been confirmed at a previous meeting, They are as follows:

Honorary President—Mr. J. Charbonneau.

Honorary Vice Presidents—P. M. Christophers, M.P.P., Harry Burns and J. E. O'Neill.

President—W. H. Chappell.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. W. Scott.

The meeting adjourned at 10 p.m.

The members of the Blairmore No. 2 Mine Rescue Team, successful winners of highest laurels in this year's inter-colonial competition, were given somewhat of a surprise a few days ago, when through their captain, Mr. David Martin, they were presented with a box of the finest cigars each by Mr. Charbonneau, general manager of the West Canadian Collieries, in recognition of their success.

The team comprises: David Martin, captain; C. Thomason, vice-captain; Alex. McVey, Capt. Smith, W. Turner and Daniel Rhodes.

Through the Enterprise, the boys wish heartily to thank Mr. Charbonneau.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Callan and sons desire to thank all friends for their floral tributes and sympathy shown to them in their sad loss.

James McCool met with a slight accident at Hilcrest a few days ago and is a patient at the local hospital.

G. H. FRANCE FORGAVE THE U. S. HER DEBT

In the international discussion now going on as to whether or not the United States shall nail the European countries to the cross and demand the last five cent piece, with interest, due for money loaned for war purposes, it is interesting to look back as to what happened between the United States and France in the early years of the American republic. In addition to such help as was rendered the revolting colonies by France on sea and land, from the years 1776 to 1783, a considerable sum of money was also loaned to that government by the French King. So it was that in 1782 the United States made a treaty with France regarding the repayment of 18,000,000 livres which had been loaned the new Republic. One section of the treaty dwelt particularly on the fact that on account of the financial condition of the United States the repayment of the principal sum could not be made within the period stipulated when the advances were granted. More important was the matter of the payment of interest on the sum borrowed, and this is particularly significant in view of the recent statements of Herbert Hoover, who as a good business man is out for the last dollar owing the United States, he being apparently no believer in sentimental nor does he consider, whose skin was being saved "over there" in 1914-18-16.

In this connection the treaty read as follows: "His Majesty, being willing to give to the said United States a new proof of his affection and friendship, has been pleased to make a present of, and to forgive the whole arrears of interest to this day, and from thence to the date of the treaty of peace; a favor which the Minister of the Congress of the United States acknowledges to flow from the pure bounty of the King, and which he accepts in the name of the said United States with profound and lively acknowledgments."

As this treaty was signed in the year 1783, and as the interest on the sums borrowed had run from the year 1778, it was a concession of no small value to the then struggling Republic. It might also be further pointed out that so poor did the United States continue to be that there was no payment of either interest or principal for seven years after the signing of the treaty. Thus France not only forgave outright the unpaid interest for a period of five years, but went without interest or principal for a period of seven years, or until Alexander Hamilton had reorganized the country's finances.

But as Kipling says: "This was long ago and far away—Toronto Saturday Night."

BOOTLEGGERS

The sections of Norway which were strong for prohibition in the recent referendum, and which was defeated, were the seacoast towns where the people had visions of getting rich in the bootlegging business, remarks the editor of Saturday Night, and in connection with the situation in B.C. the same paper declares that British Columbia bootleggers are organizing a campaign for the purpose of "dry-ing" up that province's business having been ruined by the present regulations.

The Alberta Liquor Act has proved to be a boon to the bootleggers in the province and several millionaires have been created as a result of this law, and naturally these men are quite in favor of the present act. High River Times.

Thousands of bright red poppies will be worn by residents of Alberta in all districts of the province on Armistice Day, November 11th. Already 300,000 of the large and small poppies have been distributed to the various organizations handling the campaign in the province and will be sold during the week on which Armistice Day falls. It is believed that nearly every person in the Province will be wearing a poppy on that day.

Following the custom inaugurated last year, the Great War Veterans Association of Canada has undertaken the distribution of the "flower of remembrance," similar to those worn in every corner of the Dominion last year. Organizations of all descriptions are co-operating to an even greater extent than last year in this noble task. Besides G.W.V.A. branches in Alberta, other organizations are rendering assistance. R. Gallagher, provincial secretary, and that there are still a few districts where no organization has so far signified its willingness to handle the campaign. Offers of assistance in these instances will be gratefully received.

The officials of the Provincial Command are being kept busy every day and many times late at night handling the poppy orders. When a ship arrives from the east, it is necessary to unpack each box and re-address the flowers to the various districts which have sent in orders. This necessitates counting all the flowers and entails a great amount of work. For this reason the secretary hopes that all orders for poppies will be forwarded to the Provincial Command offices as soon as possible.

NEWSPAPERS

A newspaper is not duty bound to print anything that it doesn't want to print. There is no rule, says the Burlington, N.J., Enterprise, that requires it to print something of absolutely no news value just because some person wants it printed. It is not obliged to effusively laud some person where laudation is not earned, nor to lambaste some individual where adverse criticism is not deserved.

It is not primed for the purpose of satisfying selfish motives. There is not the remotest reason why it should give away its space to somebody who is running something for monetary benefit.

The mission of a newspaper is to print news of general interest. Advertising is not news. Something concerning a single individual is not news. An article skinning some private enemy or opponent is not news. Numerous other things of a like nature that find their way into a newspaper office are not news. It is not hard for a trained newspaper man to draw the distinguishing line. It is not hard for anybody to draw a distinguishing line if he will stop a moment and give the matter a thought.

True it is that a newspaper gives away much, especially when charity is concerned, but it does not follow that the publisher should adopt charity as an established custom and open the door freely to all comers.

Space is the only thing that the newspaper has to sell, and the publisher who gives it away is no wiser than the merchant who gives away a hat or a suit of clothes to the man who comes into his store and asks for them.

A VAST IMPROVEMENT

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, starts its fall and winter campaign for subscriptions a vastly improved paper over what previously looked like perfection. To date it has read great popularity for years, it could read even greater to make improvements. Nevertheless the publishers seemed determined regardless of cost to make the Family Herald the best paper ever before. Every department is being strengthened and new features added. In fact the Family Herald and Weekly Star during 1922 will be of such value that no Canadian home can afford to be without it.

The boys of the Hillcrest Trail Rangers scored a real hit last night with the rendition of a song of a well composed parody on "Peggy O'Neill."

Canada's Enviable Position In Economic Sense Is Subject For Comment

With the threat of a Turkish war removed from the international horizon, with the prospect of industrial peace being maintained at home and with a bumper crop now making its way into the markets, the outlook in Canada, today is brighter than it has been for many a week past.

The whole situation is sufficiently summed up in an appreciation prepared by an eastern investment house. In parts, this says: "The marketing of grain and other agricultural products will set in motion this year a golden stream estimated at approximately two billion dollars. Internationally, Canada's financial standing is an enviable one. With United States funds setting at a discount today, Canadian money demands a premium in all the countries of the world. Such a position has its foundation, to a large extent, on high production in our fundamental industries and in our manufacturers and the resulting trade and commerce. Production of the proportions indicated in this year's preliminary reports must inevitably result in a marked stimulus in every line of commercial endeavour. Better times undoubtedly are in store for every portion of our economic fabric. This year's abundant agricultural production is a long stride forward to prosperity."

The rapidity with which this year's harvest is being converted into cash is indicated by the fact that in the period from September 1 to October 5, the Canadian Pacific Railway marketed 68,000,000 bushels of grain. This constitutes a record, the highest previous figure having been 32,000,000 in 1915.

This, however, is but a small proportion of the total crop. Government estimates just published at Washington place Canada's production of wheat alone at 300,733,000 bushels as compared with 300,858,000 last year. Wheat output of the world, exclusive of Russia and Mexico, is computed at 3,012,533,000 bushels as compared to revised estimates for the same countries of 3,049,740,000 for last year. Despite the availability of world supplies, however, may not be reflected in proportionately increased export demand for Canadian wheat. In view of the greatly lessened purchasing power of many of the countries of the world. Nor will the improved status of the Canadian dollar facilitate business with those countries whose currency is still badly depreciated.

Interesting basis for a lesson in international economics will be provided by statistics which show that during the month of August, Canada was Uncle Sam's best customer. Not only did the United States buy more from this country than from any other nation in the world, but she also sold more to us than to anyone else. But the value of the goods she sold to us dropped by $12,000,000 as compared to last year, while Canada increased her sales to the States by $3,000,000. This is in part explained by a rush to avoid the incidence of what Americans have come to describe as Washington's latest "scourge of abominations." Uncle Sam has cut off his nose in order to provide something therewith to pad his purse. In the meantime, the Wall Street Journal has pointed out that the new duties, largely inspired by the agricultural bloc, have not benefited the farmer to the extent of a single cent in the price commanded by his wheat, which is still subject to the immutable laws of world-supply and world-demand.

Against Tipping

Wrong In Theory, Principle and In Practice

A great many are of the same mind regarding the tipping evil which has attained mammoth proportions; nor does its ultimate growth seem yet in sight. Tipping affects travel adversely, and is uncongenial. Besides, tipping debases both the recipient and the donor. It is wrong in theory and in principle and in practice, and the sooner it is abolished so much the better. It is unmanly to fawn and truckle for tips to commence with, and the benevolent gentlemen who persist in keeping up the practice would do well to restrain their ardor in this particular direction in future.

India Rubber for Paper Making

Very Small Quantity Improves Strength and Quality

Among the numerous suggestions for utilising rubber, few are more attractive than the proposal to make rubber a constituent of paper. The only way by which this may be successfully done has been worked out by a British inventor, who has made experiments on a considerable scale. He uses a small quantity of rubber, which is a liquid with a strong resemblance to milk. When this liquid is mixed with the material from which paper is made, it has a remarkable effect in improving the strength and quality of the paper. "A very small quantity of rubber actually enters into the constitution of the paper; in fact one per cent seems to be about the best figure. About fourteen million tons of paper are produced every year and it is calculated that if rubber were used for half this output it would absorb most of the surplus rubber which at present exists an embarrassment to the whole rubber industry. The progress of these British experiments is therefore being watched with the greatest interest. Curiously enough the paper is not made water-proof by the amount of rubber water-proofly employed, although its finish and strength are greatly improved. It is, however, possible by using more rubber to produce waterproof paper which will be suitable for packing liquid and semi-liquid substances. Experiments have proved that it is possible to dye paper which has been treated with rubber.

Wisdom of Preparedness

Only Safe Course Is Making Provision For Emergencies

The wisdom of preparedness is not a new thing. We learn it from Holy Writ and by means of studying the ways of even creeping things. The ants are not strong in body, but strong in mind; they prepare themselves against the evil day, and then in time of distress are really stronger than giants, for they have enough. The cones were little rabbits that had no effective weapons and no defense except flight; but by building their houses in the rocks these feeble folk became just as strong as their impermeable homes. The foolish learned where to get knowledge, how to make their world safe for democracy. They have but irrational and capricious king, yet they understand how to govern themselves and can live and work together harmoniously; the ugly spider rises aloft, and dwells, with all her ugliness, in the splendid palace of the king. She aspired. And so these four humble creatures are illustrations to the observing Asur of four ideas: The wisdom of preparedness, the wisdom of safety, the wisdom of co-operation and the wisdom of beauty.

Where Gas Is Wasted

Great Waste of Gasoline By Preventable Evaporation

Sufficient gasoline is being wasted annually in the United States, through preventable evaporation, in storage tanks, to run a car 1,400,000,000 miles, the equivalent of more than seven round trips between the earth and the sun. This decision was reached after a series of tests conducted by the United States Bureau of Mines and Engineers of Johns-Manville, Inc., at Bigheart and Drumright, Okla. It was further computed that the 775 uninsulated storage tanks in the United States holding gasoline and crude oil, each with a capacity of 55,000 barrels, are losing by evaporation more than 3,000,000 gallons of gasoline every month, and that these losses are largely controllable by the application of proper insulation.

The rate at which these losses of gasoline from storage tanks take place is calculated at about six per cent a year, while that for crude oil is about three per cent.

Fifty Years Of British Cable Enterprise

Magnificent Triumph Against a Host of Technical and Practical Difficulties

Recently there was celebrated in Great Britain in the presence of the Duke of York and of a large and distinguished company, the jubilee of a group of submarine cable companies which have developed a huge and successful system of cables in many parts of the world. When the company was formed there were only eight thousand miles of cable in existence. Today there are 225,000 miles. The whole of the capital and technical skill and commercial enterprise, for this great business came from Great Britain, and represents a magnificent triumph against a host of technical and practical difficulties. The lead which Great Britain took in submarine telegraphy has been followed likewise in wireless telegraphy, the first successful commercial experiments in which were conducted in British waters, while the first company to work wireless communication on a business basis was also formed in Great Britain.

Britain Pays Interest

Cheque For Fifty Million Dollars Deposited in States

A cheque for $50,000,000, drawn to the order of the Treasurer of the United States, was deposited by J. P. Morgan and Company in the Federal Reserve Bank as the first payment on account of interest on British war loans. The British Government was where now, short and hard up, has been sending large amounts of gold and United States dollars to the Morgan firm, its financial agents, for many months in anticipation of this payment.

J. P. Morgan and Company presented a large number of cheques and United States treasury certificates to a member bank of the Federal Reserve system, and receiving the exchange the cheque for $50,000,000, which was deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank.

Return of Jews to Palestine

Joshua Wedgedge Urges Support of Move for National Home

That during the two thousand years of Christianity the Jews had been a persecuted race and it was time Christians wiped away this blot was the consensus made before the American Zionist Labor Socialist Convention in Toronto, by Col. Joshua Wedgedge, Vice-President of the British Labor Party, who has come to Canada on behalf of the Keren Hayesod, an organization collecting funds for the building of Palestine.

"Give Jews an address on the map," was a slogan adopted by the speaker in discussing the setting up of a Jewish nation in Palestine. The purpose of establishing this Jewish nation under the protection of the British flag was not so much for the Jews themselves, as for the sake of the world, to give the Jews back to that country to give the Jewish people, in no matter what part of the world they may be, the respect due to a race which has a nation to stand behind them.

In fact, the speaker foresaw the time when a Jew could say together with all other members of the race throughout the world:

"I am a citizen of the British Empire, be careful to give me justice."

The speaker was of the opinion, however that the friendship of the British Government for the Jews was not entirely unselfish.

The Near East situation had brought the whole situation to a head and made it an issue. The necessity of having a nation grow up in friendly surroundings. Britain where now, short and hard up, has been sending large amounts of gold and United States dollars to the Morgan firm, its financial agents, for many months in anticipation of this payment.

Hats Off to Britain

United Efforts of People Are Stabilizing Industries and Finances

"Their ability to take punishment is striking," said R. V. LeSteu, M.P., in regard to the people of Britain when stating a few of his impressions gathered while abroad.

Mr. LeSteu is right in his opinion of the manner in which the people of the homeland are bending their energies to the task of stabilizing the economy by striving to place Britain again in the foremost position in the world which, materially speaking, she sacrificed to the last man and the last shilling.

The people of Great Britain are now paying the penalty that is inseparable from a nation-wide war.

Work and trade expansion is the motto on the other side of the Atlantic, and slowly but surely, with the united efforts of the British peoples, Britain is stabilizing her finances.

Her people grumble at the taxes they have to pay. Englishmen usually are grumbly, but they do not grumble lying down. Britain's present position was built not on her insularity or on her commanding position on the trade routes of the world, but on the capacity of her people to expand and to build in the surest foundations.

Britain is paying her own debts, her war bill and those of a number of her allies in the war, and she will work away steadily until the last cent is paid.

The time has not yet passed when the rest of the world can wait with respect to the mother of nations.—From the Sarnia Canadian Observer.

Right Food Means Health

Taking Wrong Kind Ruins Lives Of Thousands of People

Dr. H. Campbell, lecturer at the National Food Exhibition, Olympia, on "Food in Relation to the Nervous System," said that if the growing human being was not fed on proper food, he would not develop properly with regard to his nervous, digestive, or any other system. Without cookery it was doubtful if men would have attained to civilization. The importance of cookery, Dr. Campbell said, consisted in the fact that the nourishment of the body was broken up and the nutrients were absorbed.

Vegetable food was the only food which demanded vigorous mastication. The child should be taught to develop a liking for the right kind of food. Farnaceous food should be consumed in the form of well-baked, crusty bread, with butter or dripping, rather than soft puddings, while raw fruit or salad should form a portion of the daily diet. The nervous factor in digestion was important. Strong emotion, fear, anger and grief, dried up the digestive secretions, and not only the saliva, but the bile and gastric juices. A happy frame of mind promoted digestion.

Animal food was on the other side, more stimulating and very exciting. The taking of wrong kinds of food spoils the lives of thousands of people. Most healthy and successful people had good digestion; hence the importance of cultivating in early life correct dietary habits.

Canadian Method of Handling Game To Be Used By South Africa

W. S. Shillington, of Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, representing the South African Government, was in Fort Arthur recently visiting grain handling and elevator plants. He was seeking information in behalf of his Government in the method of handling grain in the United States and Canada.

In South Africa, he says, the game system is in vogue and with the advent of a policy to go into the business extensively, the Government has decided to locate at harbor and interior towns grain elevators and to adopt the Canadian method of handling.

A board of historians has been appointed to superintend the work of marking and preserving the historic sites in conjunction with the Dominion Parks Branch. The sites of national importance and value are to begin on their restoration. The first decision made by the board was to make a detailed survey of historic landmarks and to date nearly six hundred have been inspected.

In addition, nearly sixty aboriginal earthworks have been chosen for preservation, and steps are being taken by the Dominion Parks Branch toward securing titles to the sites and having them suitably marked. An artistic tablet is to be used in this connection which has been designed by a well known Canadian artist and plaques are being cast in bronze. An attractive design has also been made for a memorial cairn, built of rough stones, which it is intended to erect on those sites where the original remains have been effaced.

While the value of the momentous work of preserving historic landmarks may not be fully appreciated by the general public, it is, however, of the greatest importance to the nation. "Future Canadians will undoubtedly be instilled with greater pride in their country's history as a result. In addition, these remains of early settlement in Canada will no doubt become the Mecca for thousands of tourists from all countries, more especially the United States, whose history is so closely interwoven with that of Canada.

"Since 1855, when the first settlement was established in Canada by Du Monte at Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia," continues the report, "Canada's development has been rapid and today is recognized as an equal by many of those countries from which she drew the nucleus of her present population. Of the numerous and magnificent of these historic landmarks we have many interesting, detailed accounts, while the remains of old forts, as well as the thick-walled, loopholed habitat of the settler, are mute evidence of the dangers which they were constantly exposed to from the periodical raids of Indians.

"Many of these structures have been obliterated; some are still intact, while in many instances only a few stones mark the spot where once a bustling community existed. In addition, a great number of relics of both English and French occupation are in the possession of individuals, societies, museums, etc., and in order that future generations, and countries in years to come, may be familiar with Canadian traditions, the Federal Government has made a comprehensive plan for the marking and preserving of these historic landmarks, which have hitherto been neglected, as well as looking after those already marked.

"Each province has numerous landmarks which are closely connected with its history, and in this connection the province of Quebec is especially rich. The citadel at Quebec City, which is in an excellent state of preservation, is one of the finest examples of early fortifications still existing on the American continent. Near Three Rivers is the ruin of the old St. Maurice fort, which was erected in 1730 and operated until 1880 under both French and English regiments. In addition, in Quebec, there are many traces of the early trading posts erected by the hardy Scotch factors and explorers of the Hudson Bay Company and the Northwest Trading Company. The famous structure, Fort Garry, erected by Lord Selkirk for the protection of his infant colony spread along the banks of the Red River, has been carefully preserved and on the site now stands the City of Winnipeg, the gateway through which the flood of immigration from Western Canada's fertile farm lands has its way to the capital of the old man.

"At Lake Windermere the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Hudson Bay Company recently began the erection of a replica of 'Kootenay House,' the first trading post in the interior of British Columbia, on the site of the original post. The old post was erected in 1807 by David Thompson, the famous astronomer and explorer for the Northwest Company, and was later acquired by the Hudson Bay Company in 1921."

MOUNTED POLICE FORM NEW ORGANIZATION

(From the Lethbridge Herald)
The traditions of the old R.N.W.M.P. are to be preserved in Lethbridge in the formation of a branch of the R.N.W.M.P. veterans. This was the result of a meeting held at the courthouse on Thursday night, with Lt.-Col. Primrose and Commissioner Bryan, of the A.P.P., former officers of the old force, present. The new branch is to be known as "H" Division, and the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Pennefather; vice-president, Inspector Bavin; vice-president, Inspector D. W. Pennefather; secretary-treasurer, Dave Jenkins; committee, W. Lamb, Pat Egan,

C. Wray, J. Taylor and R. B. Winter. Senator De Veber, who occupied the chair, held that the ex-members of the R.N.W.M.P. had a decided claim on the country. He referred to the recommendation of Colonel Ross Robinson, who was sent to make a survey of the North West in 1872, that there should be mounted troops. A bill was passed, after the third reading, on May 20, 1873, giving effect to this recommendation, and the nucleus of the historic force, which has been associated with the North West and which has made history in this part of the country and in the Dominion, was formed in the "A", "B" and "C" troops, organized, in September, 1873, with "D", "E" and "F" troops added in March, 1874.

Debt to the R.N.W.M.P. P.

Introduced by the chairman, Lt.-Colonel Primrose went into a comparison of what took place in the United States in the wars against the Indians and what took place in Canada with the R.N.W.M.P. in action.

In the fourteen years from 1868 to 1882, in the Missouri military district in the States, 1,000 officers and men were killed and wounded and 400 battles fought. In the six years between 1862 and 1868, 800 settlers were killed by Indians in Missouri. Seven hundred whites perished in Minnesota, Dakota and Iowa during the first week of the Sioux war, and 200 captives were sent to a fate worse than death. The war alone cost the U.S. $20,000,000. In cost of Indian wars from 1872 to 1882, they attained the startling figure of $200,000,000. The trials of the pioneer settlers in the Western States of the U.S. were drenched with blood and blazed under extremes of hardships.

A Contrast

Portraying in lurid colors conditions in the west of the United States in these early days, Colonel Primrose painted another canvas of how our own West, up against like conditions, fared under the aegis of the renowned R.N.W.M.P. In contrasting the two phases in the two countries, he drew attention to the absence of the loss of life in the Canadian North West, to the peace and security which not only the Whites but the Redskins secured under the guardianship of the R.N.W.M.P., and to the saving of millions of money to the taxpayers of the Dominion. With this in mind, the speaker put the question as to whether the men of the R.N.W.M.P. who so acquitted themselves for the country and who were the principal factors in bringing these things about, had been properly treated by a government who refused them a medal and strip for their services in the North West Rebellion. He emphasized that the rebels would have never taken place had the Dominion government of the day acted on the advice of the reports of the officers of the Mounted Police instead of following a policy of procrastination and listening to the counsels of others.

Unawareness Blame

The Mounted Police in the rebellion, said Colonel Primrose, were forced to fire at Duck Lake. Major Crozier was never forgiven for an action forced upon him by a government who should never have allowed matters to reach the stage they did. With the blaming of Major Crozier, the whole force came under blame, and it was this unwarranted sensing of blame which caused the government to take the course it did when the first application for medals and strip was made.

With the discussion of routine matters and a vote of thanks to Senator De Veber, Lt.-Colonel Primrose, and Colonel Bryan, the meeting adjourned.

EXPERIMENTING TO MAKE PAPER OUT OF RUBBER

One of the most interesting industrial experiments of the day has to do with the use of rubber in the manufacture of paper, according to advice received from the United States. It was a little more than two years ago that Frederick Kaye, an English chemist, applied for patents on the process. Since then, both in America and in England, paper manufacturers have been experimenting with a view to making the process of commercial value.

To date the use of rubber in paper is not on a commercial basis. There will have to be a long period of experimenting before deductions can be made and conclusions reached.

What makes the use of rubber in paper particularly interesting is the fact that the latex, or virgin rubber, is for the first time being proposed for commercial use. The latex as shipped to this country from the rubber plantations of Brazil or the Far East differs from the sap that comes from the rubber tree only in the addition of a small quantity of ammonia to keep the rubber from coagulating and of a small amount of water.

What reaches this country is a white viscous emulsion, resembling heavy cream in appearance and containing from 20 to 35 per cent. of rubber in solution. Chemists have seen commercial possibilities in this latex for several years, but it is only recently that these possibilities have seemed likely of realization.

When Kaye discovered that latex could be mixed with pulp in the beating machine, and that this mixture of rubber with wood fibre produced a paper that was as good to the eye, as smooth as and somewhat stronger than ordinary paper, he indicated a use for virgin rubber that has taken up the interest of paper manufacturers ever since.

The use of from 1 to 6 per cent. of rubber in paper produces a paper that has a greater folding resistance. This means a paper that tears less easily, a paper that resists more perpendicular pressure, a paper that folds without cracking.

Just the exact amount of strength that is added to paper by use of rubber is not known. Some claims have been made of an increase of several hundred per cent. in the strength.

WHY BABIES CRY

It's often hard to find the trouble — It may be teeth — it may be stomach — but oh so often it is just a chafed irritated skin on which poor Soap has been used.

The remedy for this is simple!

Hours of suffering — night after night of disturbance — have been avoided by mothers, who have insisted on "Baby's Own Soap". Of course it costs a little more, a very little, more, however, than what is often bought and used — but four generations of Canadian Mothers are there to vouch for its purity, for the soothing healing effect on Baby's delicate skin, for the lovely pure flower fragrance it leaves when Baby fresh and clean is taken from his bath.

Don't you think, Madam, it's worth paying the little extra, a little less if you buy a bar to carry with you for deodorizing for Baby's Own Soap. Adv.

The Traffic In Habit Forming Drugs

By Dr. J. G. Shearer, Social Service Council of Canada

Addiction to the use of habit-forming drugs such as opium, morphine and cocaine has become such large proportions and been as difficult to suppress and makes such terrible havoc, physical, mental and moral of its enslaved victims as to cause grave concern to leaders alike in Church and State. Parliament is always unanimous in making the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act more stringent and effective. The only question raised by members in Commons or Senate is how best to accomplish the end sought.

The present Premier, Right Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, then Minister of Labor, introduced the Act in 1911. It has been strengthened since under the Right Honorable Sir Robert Borden and Arthur Meighen and last session under the Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Health. The penalty was raised to seven years. Whipping was added where drugs are supplied to juveniles, and unnaturalized aliens convicted of offences were ordered deported after serving sentence.

It is interesting to note the distribution of the traffic in the provinces of the Dominion. The very latest figures supplied by the Federal Department of Health, giving the numbers for Federal convictions for the year ending 31st March, 1922, are as follows:

	Total Chinese	Chinese
P. E. I. ....	0	0
Nova Scotia ...	9	1
N. Brunswick ...	14	9
Manitoba ...	16	0
Ontario ...	66	14
Saskatchewan	88	73
Alberta ...	101	59
Quebec ...	237	133
B. C. ....	315	300
Total ...	845	211

We have arranged these figures in descending order.

The first fact that stares one in the face is the tremendous proportion of Chinese in this summary of offenders 634 out of 845. The new law attaching deportation as a penalty will probably in a few years materially alter these figures. It is likely that many, perhaps most of the Chinese offenders are not Canadian citizens and are therefore subject to deportation when convicted. These must either head their ways or leave Canada.

It is interesting to note that no mention is made of Japanese or East Indians in this statement.

It is sometimes argued by those opposed to prohibition of the traffic in intoxicants that it results in increased addition to the use of drugs. These official figures effectively knock the prop of under this contention.

The two provinces not under prohibition show 552 convictions out of 845 for all Canada. If the Chinese are left out the figures are 119 in these two provinces out of 211 in all Canada. "I do not argue that prohibition lessens the use of drugs, but that it certainly does not increase it." British Columbia's quota of 15 omitting the Chinese are also more numerous than in any other part of Canada. Another suggestion is that, owing to favorable conditions of pasture, lambs can well be held for further finish and, in many cases, held over for the early winter market.

Professional Beggars

New York City Appears to be a Beggar's Paradise

Five thousand professional beggars in New York City—3,000 in the Bronx, the Comstock Lodge of Beggars alone. The daily take of these fellas averages $100,000, which is $700,000 a week, $3,000,000 a month, $36,000,000 a year. These are the facts as ascertained from information obtained from the Charity Organization Society, the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities, the Salvation Army, various business men's association and the police. The figures given are extremely conservative, since the probability is that there are more than 5,000 professionals imposing daily upon the benevolence of the most charitable city in the world, and that the daily receipts of these frauds average better than $20.

Success For Alberta Butter

Return received by C. P. Marker, Dairy Commissioner, indicate that Alberta butter exhibited at five of the large fairs in the west manufactured 56 per cent. of the first prizes offered, and also four out of five of the championships. The exhibitors at the fairs at Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatchewan, Brandon and Regina, and came into competition with butter exhibits from most of the other provinces of Canada.

Montreal has had for many years an abnormally large and (at least negative) volunteer army of criminals, that is, commercialized social vice, as the reports of the Montreal Committee of Sixteen conclusively show.

Bearing in mind that social vice and narcotics drugs are twin evils and boon companion, each the cause and the effect of the other, in the explanation in whole or large part to be found in this fact.

Canadian Bacon

Canada Faces Keen Competition in Export Bacon Trade

Prices of Canadian bacon on the English market continue superior to those of United States product, but the Dominion Livestock Branch calls attention to the fact that an agitation has been started by the agricultural and trade press across the border for a change in the situation, and for an improvement in the supply of bacon which will bring at least a levelling up of terms on those paid for exports from this country. On September 28 the quotations cables to the branch is prevalent in the British market for Canadian lean bacon were 130 to 140 shillings per hundred weight, and 98 to 108 shillings for United States, Irish and Danish bacon were about on a par at 151 to 155 shillings, which shows a decline by the former. In its note on the situation, with particular reference to the press agitation in the United States, the Dominion Livestock Branch remarks that having been up to the present with supplying the British market with a cheaper product than that supplied by any other country, our neighbors now propose that quality as well as quantity shall be given practical attention. It would seem that the policy suggested for adoption is identical in broad outline with that underlying the official hog grading scheme of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, which prompts the remark in the branch report that "quality competition in the keenest degree will mark the demand of trade with Britain from now on."

Boys' Club Secured

Top Prices For Hogs

Paid 40 Cents Above the Average Price for Selects

The weekly market report issued by the Dominion Livestock Branch invariably contains something worthy of note outside a record of the ordinary market fluctuations and movements. The report, for instance, from Montreal for September 26 notes the sale of a load of hogs to a packer of the boys' club at $15.40, which is 40 cents above the average price paid for selects in the same market that week and only ten cents below the top price. Such a result is surely an encouragement to other boys' swine clubs.

Another feature of the report for the week referred to is a comment upon the effect the new tariff of the United States is likely to have upon the lamb market. This tariff calls for a duty of two dollars per head on lamb and sheep, 4 cents a pound on dressed lamb and 2½ cents a pound on dressed sheep. The conclusion arrived at by the trade, according to the branch is that, owing to the shortage of lamb supplies in the United States, prices in that market will be so stimulated by the tariff that it will still pay to ship there from Canada. Another suggestion is that, owing to favorable conditions of pasture, lambs can well be held for further finish and, in many cases, held over for the early winter market.

The Jumping Stick

Dead Branch of Walnut Tree Attracts Considerable Attention in France

The latest natural phenomenon to be brought to the attention of the French Academy of Science is a "jumping stick" from Para. The estimated bit of wood is a dead branch of a walnut tree, and from its antics it would seem to be a relative of the Mexican jumping bean.

The "jumping stick" was observed recently in the court of a public school in a village near Nantes, where it attracted the attention of all the students and faculty, and for an hour kept them amused with its acrobatics. The branch, which is 6 meters long and half an inch thick, suddenly moved across the court as if carried by the wind, though not a breath of air was stirring. Then it came to a sudden stop and leaped several feet in the air. Again it stopped along the ground, leaped into the air, and marched on in another direction. Within half an hour's vigorous and eccentric exercise, it came to rest with twenty feet from its starting point.

Observers carefully examined the branch but found no trace of exterior manipulation connected with its movements.

A long paper on the incident is now being prepared and will be read before the Academy of Sciences. The only explanation of the "jumping stick" so far advanced is that it is a phenomenon of hygrometry or of elasticity.

Money In Sheep

Farmers Advised to Get Wool and Mutton Industry

With prospects for a steady improvement in the wool and mutton industry the present is an opportunity for farmers to purchase a flock of grade ewes and a pure-bred ram and get into sheep raising in the opinion of G. J. Robertson, Livestock Commissioner for Saskatchewan.

"The returns for sheep during the past year have been very large, but their value is recognized by all thoughtful and careful farmers. The returns for sheep, however, are improving, and there is no doubt that the worst period in the sheep business has passed and that a slow but steady improvement will probably be witnessed."

"The price of wool has improved five cents per pound and upwards during the past year, and the price of good mutton lambs on the stockyards is satisfactory. These factors, together with the high price for wool and mutton which is prevailing in the United States is bound to have the effect of raising the price of sheep in this country. Consequently the present should be a very opportune time for the purchase of a flock of grade ewes, and this flock, of course, should be headed by a good pure-bred ram."

Manitoba Savings Bank

During the past year the Provincial Government Savings Bank, with two branches in Winnipeg, has made a monthly profit over all expenses of $2,000, according to the annual report submitted to the provincial treasurer. The bank is averaging 30 new deposits per day, and now has 12,000 depositors. In the two years it has been in business it has accumulated deposits totalling $4,324,013, has paid off $35,544 advanced by the Government for initial organization, and now shows a net surplus of $10,000.

British Coal

Exports of coal from the United Kingdom to German ports continue heavy. Shipments in July were 1,123,492 tons, an increase of 88,644 tons over those of June. The commission report expresses the opinion that large exports will continue throughout the fall. In July Germany assumed first place as a customer of the United Kingdom, France being second with 29,676 tons, the Netherlands third with 19,399 tons, and Italy fourth with 17,952 tons.

May Nationalize Land

Big Land Owners of England Must Mend Their Ways

The big landowners of England have been held, in substance, that as a class they have made a bad mess of the land business and that if they did not better in the future the country would take the land from them and turn them out.

The speaker was Lord Bledisloe, himself a big landowner, who, during the war, helped the Government manage the food supplies of the country. The occasion was an address before the British Association.

"The British agricultural landowner today is on its trial," Lord Bledisloe asserted. "Unless he justifies himself as such, the nationalization of the land is inevitable. Public opinion will demand his extinction, and Parliament will endorse the demand."

"Many landowners have been for two generations nothing more than rent receivers, and they have possessed neither the knowledge nor the inclination personally to administer their own estates, still less to cultivate them in commercial lines for their own and the nation's benefit."

"...as they have been organized as a class of the community, they have been organized, not as producers of wealth, but as owners of property, and as such their organization affords them but a small and steady decreasing measure of security."

"They have thus lost their political power because they have no economic basis. They have, not wholly with out justification, been stigmatized as ignorant, reactionary and despoiled."

Annual Fire Loss

Fire Commissioner of Canada

Most Wasteful of Nations

"We are the most prodigal and wasteful nation on earth," declared J. Grove Smith, Dominion Fire Commissioner, speaking before Ottawa Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

"From childhood we learn to boast of our great forest wealth, of our mines and our vast natural resources. This tends to make us careless in our methods of tapping these sources of our wealth and results too often in economic developments."

"The fire losses annually in the Dominion are most appalling figure. In 1922, apart from forest fires a direct loss of $45,600,000 occurred by property alone. Indirect losses called for the payment by insurance companies $65,000,000. The Department of Public Works expended $34,000,000 in dealing with fire. The destruction of property thus caused an expense of $5.25 per capita, a sum which is at least ten times greater than in any other country except the United States."

"As a result of this, insurance rates are five or ten times as great as in other countries."

More serious still is the loss of life, which in Canada, yearly amounts to between 300 and 450 lives.

The speaker was sorry to say that in other countries more effective steps are taken to keep down loss of property and life from fire. Laws were rigidly enforced. The fault did not lie in these being no laws, but in the slighed way in which the existing laws were, or rather were not, enforced.

Relics of Long Extinct Animals

The skull of giant panthers, skulls of several sabre-toothed tigers and remains of some three-toed horses, are among the additions to the already great collection of fossils in Guyot Hall at Princeton University. The relics of long extinct animals were found by Prof. William J. Sinclair of Princeton, who has just returned from a research expedition to the Bad Lands of South Dakota.

Increase in Game Birds

Doing Well Under Protection of Migratory Birds Convention Act

With few exceptions migratory game fowl have increased to a marked degree in Canada during the past season according to reports received by Commissioner J. B. Harkin of the Canadian National Parks, from migratory bird officers and wardens—all in the Dominion. In the east owing to the heavy rainfall late breeding seasons certain species did not hatch with as great success as in previous years, but the western provinces report increases in practically all species.

A remarkable feature of the census being taken, of the increase of bird life under the Migratory Birds Convention Act is the widespread increase in black ducks. All over the Dominion there appear to be unprecedented numbers of these birds and in some sections of New Brunswick especially they are reported to have appeared in exceptional flocks on the rivers and inland retreats. Cormorants, gulls, terns, cranes, Canada geese, brant and plovers have also shown marked increases, while in certain sections older duck have returned to breeding grounds.

Now Scotia also reports an increase in its state, although the heavy rains in certain sections caused the loss of many eggs and young. However, in other parts large broods have successfully reared, one duck being noted with as many as twenty-four ducklings. A similar increase is reported from Prince Edward Island.

In Quebec the older ducks did not do as well. In many localities no broods being raised owing to the unseasonable weather. Moreover, all other species of waterfowl hatched successfully.

In Ontario as well as in the other eastern provinces, shorebirds are scarce. Black ducks, mallards, green-winged teal, mergansers, loons and wood ducks have been seen in large numbers.

All through the west migratory birds show an increase, with the mallard leading the way. In Manitoba, mallards and black duck are abundant. Alberta's wild fowl is also doing well, while British Columbia is expected to report a good season.

Carelessness Causes Many Fires

Information Shows Campaign Against Green-Wooly Badly Needed

A great deal is being said about the need for people to be more careful in keeping matches out of the way of children, but according to information given at the Mutual Fire Association Convention at Regina a campaign against "playing with matches" among grown-ups is badly needed. The experience of most of the companies represented pointed to the increasing hazard of careless smoking around farm buildings and threshing outfits, and it is estimated that at least one quarter of the losses in 1921 and 1922 can be directly or indirectly attributed to the carelessness and carelessness of matches. Cigarette smokers especially are becoming a public nuisance from a fire standpoint and are far worse than children playing with matches. Moose Jaw Times.

Fish That Whistled

A fish that whistled and blew itself up when tickled is to be presented to the New York Aquarium. It was scooped out of the water at Blue Point, N.Y., by Clarence Seaman, of Patchogue. It was about four inches long, had one eye, a head like an owl and three tails which it wagged all at once, and its body was covered with horns. Seaman said it got angry when he pulled it out of the water it blew itself up, whistled three times and expired.

About Tree Planting

Questions and Answers on Prairie Tree Planting by Canadian Forestry Association

Q.—I would like to know if Russian Olives make as satisfactory a hedge as Caragana.

A.—Russian Olives are not as satisfactory for a hedge as Caragana. Indeed in your locality (Provost, Alta.), I question if they will be at all hardy year in and year out. There are some good Russian Olive hedges in the southern and eastern parts of Saskatchewan and Southeast Alberta, but as a rule it is not quite hardy every year throughout the prairies.

Q.—Is it satisfactory to have nursery stock to come in the fall and not planted till the following spring?

A.—It is quite satisfactory and often indeed advisable to have nursery stock come in the fall to be planted in the following spring. It should be buried in a trench in the ground, the roots twelve to eighteen inches deep, the plants lying on a sloping bank so that the tops are covered by about four inches of soil when the job is finished. The trees should be laid singly with the soil well packed about every part of them and tramped firmly. Molt ground, but not wet, should be selected for this, and it is advisable to mound up the place with soil to prevent water laying in the trench over winter.

Q.—Is it advisable to have Green Ash come in the fall and not planted till spring? Ash are seven and eight feet high.

A.—It is quite advisable to have Green Ash come in this way, or indeed, any other class of Nursery stock except evergreens. Spruce and eight feet trees are not difficult to bury.

Q.—I broke three strips early, rather than back-set a couple of months later, and when I did, it was good. Now it is broken again. What is the best way to get it ready for spring planting?

A.—I have been advised to water my trees that fall after the leaves are off. As I am in a small town and water difficult to get, please let me know if this advice is right and if it is important?

A.—It is good practice watering trees after the leaves are off in the fall and before the ground freezes. Under this year wherever there has been no rain, rains this fall it is highly important to do so. Transpiration of moisture through the bark takes place all winter and the roots and its whole system have not had sufficient water in the fall, the trunk and branches of the tree are liable to dry up before spring. We call this "winter kill" sometimes, but it is really dry conditions when the trees go into the winter.

Animals That Never Drink

Prairie Dogs Apparently Do Not Touch Water

One of the strangest biological facts is that there are in desert regions mammals that never drink.

Conspicuous among them are the prairie dogs. These little mammals, apparently, do not in all their lives drink a drop of water. With certain other rodents, such as pouched mice and kangaroo rats, it is the same way.

Inasmuch as the physical economy of these animals requires water, the latter manifestly must be separated in their bodies from the food, mostly seeds on which they subsist. Kansas City Star.

Immigrants From Ireland

Since the first of the year Canada has received 2,222 immigrants from Ireland, of whom 1,029 have been adult agriculturists, according to information available at the Department of Immigration. The total immigration to Canada this year by months was: January, 22; February, 55; March, 117; April, 205; May, 626; June, 486; July, 402; and August, 208.

The League of Nations

It is rather noticeable how, in these international troubles, the tendency is more and more to turn to the League of Nations. It is now proposed to entrust the guardianship of the Straits to this body. It looks as though the League, even in its present undeveloped form, needs a world's need. Wining Free Press.

It may not be generally known that though we have temporarily lost an emperor, the Crows' Nest Pass still has a governor in the person of Mr. L. L. Morgan. He has absolutely no connection with King George's colonial heads, but is simply a governor of what the Provincial hockey leagues will do the coming season.

LITTLE INTEREST IN NIGHT CLASSES

Although the matter of a meeting for the enrollment in night classes was well advertised, only about 25 turned up at the school on Tuesday night.

It was hoped that considerable local interest would be manifested in these classes and that the enrollment on the opening night would have been sufficient to satisfy the board and teachers that the classes could be carried on throughout the season successfully. It was intended that classes be formed in mining, mathematics, English, dressmaking and bookkeeping. The result of the enrollment on Tuesday night was:

Mining, 12.
Mathematics, 5.
English, 0.
Bookkeeping, 1.
Dressmaking, 0.

Volunteer teachers for the above subjects are:

Mining — O. Morgan.
Mathematics — D. M. J. Conway.
English — Miss Davis.
Bookkeeping — W. A. Henderson.
Dressmaking — Mrs. Gibeau.

Although the prospects on Tuesday night appeared anything but promising, yet the instructors are hopeful of enlisting the desired number within a few days through a personal canvass.

The opening classes in mining and mathematics will be held at the school tomorrow (Friday) night and anyone desirous of enrolling may do so at that time.

BLAIRMORE NEWS

The Crows' Nest Pass is very fortunate in having one of the most up-to-date and modern garages in the province of Alberta. This garage is situated in the west end of the town of Blairmore, opposite the new Greenhill Hotel.

The building, which is one hundred feet by one hundred feet, is of fire-proof construction and is equipped to handle any branch of the automobile repair business. The Crows' Nest Pass Motors, who operate this garage have the agencies for the Studebaker and Chevrolet cars, and carry a full line of automobile accessories and parts. They maintain a twenty-four hour service, and while they have only been in business in Blairmore for two years, they have built up a large business by reason of their excellent service and efficient management.

The fair name of Blairmore has recently been slandered by some persons, evidently on hearsay evidence. The editor spent several days in Blairmore last week and found it to be one of the most orderly and law-abiding towns in Canada. Not only is prohibition enforced, but temperance is practiced. During a stay of four days the editor did not see a single person under the influence of liquor.

The Palm Cafe is now in its new quarters and is better equipped than ever to cater to its fast growing list of patrons. The Palm is up-to-date in every respect, using only the very best articles obtainable in the market, preparing and serving them on the most strict, sanitary lines.

Some time ago, a subscriber to The Youth's Companion, was a young man in a small town west of Down East in Maine, and who was more generally informed in the historic, literary, arts and music of the country than any other young man I ever lived in and had the advantages of a large city. "Where were you educated?" I asked. "I was brought up in my home town and The Youth's Companion was her rep." And this same liberal education is in The Companion for anyone who will seek it. ## Thanksgiving

Canadians should not find it hard this year to feel truly thankful on the occasion of their national Thanksgiving Day. Conditions throughout the Dominion are, taken as a whole, vastly improved over those which prevailed a year ago. For the first time in quite a few years, the West has been favored with a really bountiful crop, the yield of wheat being probably the largest in the history of the Prairie Provinces.

The result of this return by Nature to the labor of the toilers of the soil is already being seen and felt in a slow but steady improvement in business and in the development of an increasing confidence among financiers and business men as to the future. This condition is reflected from week to week, and is clearly seen in more satisfactory statements from railways, banks, and Government departments.

The improved economic condition does not constitute the only reason for devout Canadian thankfulness this year. It was only a few weeks ago that Canada, in common with the several units which make up the British Empire, was on the verge of another war—a war not of its own choosing but one which loomed up as the only means of saving the liberties of countless millions of people. Happily, through the exercise of great patience, by the British, coupled with every evidence of equal great patience, war was averted. After the experiences and sorrows of 1914-1918, Canadians should indeed be sincerely thankful that they have been spared another such horror.

What does a national Thanksgiving Day mean to the people of Canada? Is it merely a purely formal recognition by the Government that Canada is a so-called Christian nation and as such recognizes the blessings bestowed by an all-wise Providence? And is the day thus set apart merely accepted by the people as one of a group of national holidays when the children do not go to school, stores and offices are closed, and the people take a day off? If this is all that Thanksgiving Day means, then it is a mockery.

On Thanksgiving Day an occasion for sincere expressions of gratitude for blessings and benefits bestowed? If it is, then people will express their thanks in acts and deeds, as well as in words. Those who have been favored with a full, or goodly share of comforts and prosperity will show their gratitude by extending kindly assistance to others less fortunate than themselves and who may be in need. The sick and suffering will be remembered.

Linked as our national Thanksgiving Day now is with the anniversary of the Armistice, the people of Canada will, undoubtedly, dedicate themselves anew to meeting their obligation, which they can never fully discharge, to the men who fought for them in the Great War. Those who have returned broken in mind and body, and the dependents of all who served Canada so well and who now stand in need of such service as can be given will render through, sympathetic action and untiring care.

By this is not meant that indiscriminate help should be given at Thanksgiving time and those soldiers and their families largely forgotten throughout the year. It is only that a certain amount of help should be practical and one hundred per cent effective. How can this be realized?

Apart from Government departments, there are two outstanding organizations in Canada who are day in and day out all the year around exerting themselves on behalf of returned soldiers and their families—the Great War Veterans' Association and the Red Cross Society. The former is intent solely to promoting the welfare of ex-service men and their dependents, but the latter, while giving ex-service men first consideration, is developing a Peace-time programme for the good of all who suffer and are in need.

Throughout the Prairie Provinces the Red Cross is carrying on its annual service of making Thanksgiving Day a "Poppy Day" from November 5 to November 11, while on Thanksgiving Day, November 24, the G.W.V.A. holds their annual Poppy Day, the proceeds of which are for the benefit of disabled soldiers.

In what better way can Western Canadians show their thanks than by wearing a poppy, paying them as generously as they can, and then contributing to any of the many members of the Red Cross and their allies in the Crusade for Good Health, and the carrying on of their work for "the improvement of health, the prevention of disease, and the mitigation of suffering?" Such an expression of thanks will enable these organizations to continue their ever-lasting help and comfort to the less fortunate from one Thanksgiving Day to another.

Londoners Honor Prince

Remarkable Scenes at Public Reception in Guildhall.

There were remarkable scenes when the Prince of Wales was entertained by the City of London to mark his return from his Easter tour. Mr. Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain and other ex-ministers attended, and all were received both by the guests at the Guildhall and by the crowd in the street with the greatest of acclamation.

Mr. Lloyd George proposed the health of the Prince, after which it was impossible, owing to the cheering, for him to speak for several minutes, women as well as men, filling the place at the top of their voices. Obviously the Prince was at most overcome by the warmth of the welcome.

The former premier proceeded to speak of the Prince's journey: "It was an act of statesmanship and courage, yet he went away without fear at the call of duty. Although I have ceased to represent a good many people upon many questions, probably upon most questions—upon one question, I, without hesitation, say I speak the mind of all when I say God bless the Prince of Wales."

Before leaving the Guildhall to catch his train for the north, Lloyd George shook hands with the Prince, who patted him affectionately on the back and wished him good luck.

CRIPPLING PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

Cannot be Banished by Liniments—Is Reached Through the Blood

Thousands of men and women suffer severely from rheumatism. Crippled in hips, ankles and feet, they can make every movement a torture. Many people think rheumatism is due to cold or heat, wet weather and they try to banish it by rubbing the painful parts with liniment. This is a great mistake; the rheumatic poison is in the blood and liniment and rubbing does not remove this poison from the blood. If you are a sufferer of rheumatism or lameness the way to rid yourself of it is by making the blood rich and pure, for only in this way can the rheumatic poison be removed.

Political Stage Cleared In Britain For The Coming General Elections

London.—With the swearing in of Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, the new Premier, and the members of the new Government, a fitting speech by Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, the former Premier, and the issue of a Labor manifesto, political stage is further elated for the impending general election. The public has now been placed in possession of all the party platforms.

Premier Law is expected to announce an extensive reform of administrative departments with the object of retrenchment.

This reform probably will affect the ministries of labor, transport, the duties of which may be relegated to other departments with a considerable saving in the expense of administration. This, however, can hardly be regarded as a new policy, rather it would be carrying out the recommendations of the Geddes commission and other economy suggestions during the Coalition regime.

In general outlines, however, the platforms of all the parties are known. Perhaps, most striking in this connection is the fact that Lloyd George, after some hesitation, joined his voice with the leaders of other parties against socialism and labor. The former Premier thus placed himself in line with Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Churchill on this question, though in a somewhat less pronounced manner. He declares: "Labor is against social order, and we must contend that policy."

He confesses he has no election slogan, and this is characteristic of the manifesto of all the parties with the exception of the Labor party.

Will Organize Fire Investigation Bureau

Thorough Inquiry is Object Of Eastern
Canada Insurance Companies

Montreal.—Insideriorian is responsible for such a large and growing percentage of fire losses in Eastern Canada that insurance companies are joining together in the organization of a bureau to investigate all fires of suspicious origin and, where justified, to prosecute suspects to finality, it was announced at the Canadian Underwriters' Association. Local heads of insurance companies declare that records show that hundreds of thousands of dollars are being paid out annually on account of fires which, there is every reason to believe, were deliberately set. There is actually evidence in hand, it is said, to show the existence of a well-organized fire-bug ring in Montreal and Toronto, and further evidence that a rate of from $200 to $300 is charged for "arranging" a fire.

Keeping Watch For Bandits

Towns in Southern Saskatchewan Are Prepared for Trouble.

Regina.—Citizens in all towns in Southern Saskatchewan close to the international border are keeping vigil through weary hours, in readiness for a visit from the gang of bandits who attempted to rob the Royal Bank branch at Pisepole, Man. Provincial Police patrols and special constables made a dash for Macoun, when a warning was sent to Weyburn, informing Inspector Simpson that telegraph wires had been cut at Macoun. A careful search was made but no trace of bandits was found.

Prince Postpones Visit To South Africa

Finds It Impossible to Take Trip This Year

London.—Although the Prince of Wales is anxious to visit South Africa as early as possible, he regrets that it will be impossible during 1923, according to a statement issued by Prince Arthur of Connaught, Governor-General of the Union.

So anxious are the people of South Africa to have a visit from the Prince that reports have been in circulation in the Dominion that His Royal Highness would visit them almost immediately.

Admiral Beatty in Motor Accident

London.—Admiral Lord Beatty was in a painful condition following a motor car accident recently when it was considered that his injuries were very slight. The Admiral was returning from a hunt near Dorking, when, in an attempt to avoid a bicycle, his car ran into a ditch. He was severely shaken, though, it is understood, no bones were broken. He is still confined to his bed.

THE KING DISSOLVES PARLIAMENT

MANIFESTO OF PREMIER LAW CONTAINS NO REMARKABLE SURPRISES

London.—The King at Sandringham signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional five years, and summoning the new Parliament to meet on November 20. The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the next one.

The only notable event was the issuance of Premier Bonar Law's manifesto. This contained no remarkable surprises, and the greater part of it was devoted to enlargement of his policies outlined at the Unionist meeting which elected him leader. He proposed to abolish the Cabinet secretariat, which has been criticized as expensive and unnecessary by the opponents of the late Government, and to transfer British representation at the League of Nations to the Foreign Office.

He intends to ratify the Irish treaty and call the British dominions to a conference to develop Empire trade. There was no statement of policy in the management of British affairs in the Near East, and that is likely to be demanded by Mr. Bonar Law's camp critics.

The Prime Minister made his campaign speech at Glasgow, where, he had a enthusiastic welcome.

Ask For Lower Rates

C.N.R. Is Asked For Cheaper Fuel Rate From Alberta East

Edmonton.—Cheaper freight rates on coal as a form of national service has been suggested to the management of the Canadian National Railways by A. Chard, freight and traffic supervisor for the Alberta Government. The present tariff of $12.70 per ton from Alberta mines to points in Ontario is shown to be prohibitive and to be working seriously against development of the eastern market.

The decision to send a message to the new British Prime Minister was made at a general meeting of the club membership. The resolution instructing the president of the club to send the cable, was greeted with cheer and was passed unanimously.

The present governmental situation is such that American capital has been secured to open and develop the Butterfield iron ore deposits discovered about a year ago on the shores of Lake Athabasca. With these remarks the magistrate came right over the top of his desk, ordered the accused to stand up and then rapped him a humdinger over the left eye. He fell to the floor, but was ordered up for another one. Rising the third time, quippen, he receives a couple of winging slaps in the right and left sides of his face.
